The background is a dark, monochromatic abstract design. It features a series of concentric circles that create a tunnel-like effect, drawing the eye towards the center. Overlaid on these circles is a grid of thin, light-colored lines, both horizontal and vertical, which adds a geometric structure to the organic circular patterns. The overall aesthetic is modern and minimalist.

The background is a dark, monochromatic composition. It features a series of concentric circles that create a tunnel-like effect, drawing the eye towards the center. Overlaid on these circles is a grid of thin, light-colored lines, both horizontal and vertical, which adds a sense of structure and precision. The overall aesthetic is modern and technical.

James M. Cassin - Superintendent - Director

Superintendent's Message

Martin Luther King, Jr. once wrote, "The ultimate measure of a person is not where they stand in moments of comfort and convenience, but where they stand in times of challenge and controversy."

Life is a journey during which we all face challenges and, hopefully, have many moments of comfort. The start of high school is a challenge for most people- it's a time for maturing, looking toward the future, exercising independence. It's a time to step out of the comfort zones of childhood to discover who you are and who you want to become.

High School is challenging in the best of times. For you all, that time in your life coincided with the tragic events of September 11th. From that moment on, the world changed – it was a time we saw horror, but also great acts of bravery and heroism. We saw people stand tall in the face of controversy and challenge. We saw stories of strangers helping strangers. We rose above together and carried on together.

As I reflect, I remember the group of nervous, unsure freshmen who entered Greater Lowell four years ago. You are now young adults ready to go out and make their way in the world. You have stepped up to the challenges that faced you. You have stayed focused, gaining the tools, skills, and knowledge you will need to begin the next chapter of your life.

As you get ready to go out and begin that chapter, I ask you to please think back on the people and events that have shaped the last four years for you. Your families, your teachers, your friends, and your experiences have all helped you reach this point.

Many of you will head in many different directions, down many different paths, but remember to enjoy the moments of comfort and convenience and know you have what it takes to stand tall and proud in the face of challenges and controversy.

We are all proud; be proud of yourselves. Good Luck,

James M. Cassin

In Memorium

In the years that follow, perhaps we'll find that even long-lost memories will slip into our mind, and suddenly you won't seem so far from us. We'll think of touching stories, the things you used to do, and favorite moments in which we were fortunate to be a part - these memories of happy times will keep you close in heart.

A message from your yearbook advisor,

Congratulations to the Class of 2005. I would like to thank all of the people that have been involved in producing this yearbook. There are quite a few that contribute to this effort, and I am sure to miss someone. My apologies.

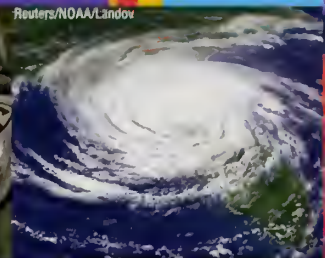

First, a thank you to Mrs. Roberta Raistrick's Information Processing students Casandra Charette and Kristina Fournier for compiling the write-ups, class will, and superlatives. Congratulations to David Ly for his yearbook cover design, and to all the Graphic Arts students who worked so hard on their designs. A special thank you to Mara Carvalho for all the hard work.

Also, thanks to David Saul, photographer extraordiniare, thank you so much for your expertise. To my fellow Advisors who planned all the events that are in these pages, thank you for your dedication to our students.

Finally, my wish for the graduates is that you use this book often. It is your book of memories. Memories of friends, classmates, faculty and staff, all of whom you are greatly indebted for making the road to your future a smoother one.

Follow your hearts,

Peggy Sarmento
Yearbook Advisor
